

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the Fullstack Engineer position.

I have over five years of hands-on experience in front-end-centric full-stack development. My proficiency with TypeScript and different frameworks of JavaScript including React, Angular and Node.js made me interested in this Job opening. I've optimised different applications performance and code quality, designing architecture, using data-driven approaches and I'm a good team player with leadership skills.

Throughout my career, I have demonstrated a strong ability to work in cross-functional teams, effectively communicate complex technical concepts, and mentor junior colleagues to foster their professional growth. I am eager to be part of a team that values continuous learning, collaboration, and creativity.

Please find my attached resume for more details or see my LinkedIn. If you require any more documents please let me know, I didn't get what you require in investment attachment and I don't need consent as well.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Regards,
Noor Ul Ain